

adjudicated. At least they would not know within five years. And if it becomes final only after five years, was there still an appeal from such decree up to six months after March 31, 1932? The priorities of the appellants were settled as of March 31, 1927.

I, therefore, dissent from this portion of the opinion.

---